

THE ROLE OF WOMEN IN ISLAM

The role of women in Islam is often misunderstood. Islamic teachings emphasize the dignity, respect, and rights of women.

Women have roles as educators, leaders, caregivers, and contributors to society. They have the right to education, work, and personal agency while maintaining a balance with their roles within the family and community.

DID YOU KNOW?

The wife of the prophet Muhammad over 1400 years ago was a business woman

A Muslim women named Fatima set up the first university which continues to exist today where people continue to study

Muslims believe in Mary, the mother of Jesus, and there is a chapter in the Quran named after Mary

Many Muslims countries have had female leaders as the head of state and in other important positions and continue to do so at present